

your brand.
your message.
your business.

Hey Deb!

Thank you for connecting and, as promised, here is the link to download the Rebrand Checklist.

I went through my own experience several years ago ... I know what it's like to completely rehaul a brand!

Here at MACG, we're passionate about creating unique and on-target branding and content for our clients. And we're nitpicky about the details.

What to Expect Next?

In this day of information overload, I am grateful you're letting me into your inbox! I always want to make sure your valuable time is well spent, so here's what you can expect from me:

- Over the next couple weeks, you'll receive a few more emails.
- Following this series, you'll receive one or two emails per month sharing tips and guidance about brand messaging, branding, and content/digital marketing. Occasionally, I'll share a special event or offer.

My goal is to help you show up in your own authentic brilliance so you attract and resonate with YOUR ideal customers and clients.

Cheers,

Deb Goeschel
Owner & Creative Director

PS: I don't want you to miss any of the great content I'm sending, and I DO want to help you stop working so hard, so please pop a quick reply to this email so I know you received it. 😊
